

CABINETMAKER

Nature of work

The principal and customary work of the employee in this employment class consists in making, altering, repairing, in a workshop or on the premises, cabinet work such as period or high-grade furniture and decorative articles.

Required qualifications

To have the legal qualifications prescribed by regulation for this employment class;

or to have a diploma of vocational studies in an appropriate specialty and have one (1) year of pertinent experience.

Some characteristic duties

The employee in this employment class prepares, in conformity with the instructions provided, plans and sketches of work to be done. He chooses the wood, traces the pieces to be made and performs the required transformations using the appropriate techniques. He performs the necessary assembling and adjusting; he bleaches out the wood, applies coating materials and veneer and installs trims, hardware and accessories.

He may be asked to apply high-grade coatings, to make fine trims and to recess furniture, cupboards or other similar cabinet work into the wall.

He may be asked to co-ordinate the work of less experienced workmen.

If need be, he performs any other related tasks.